WHAT IS AFF?

Accelerated freefall (AFF) is a universal 9 jump program used worldwide to teach you guys and girls the exciting sport of skydiving! Each stage you will learn something new to evolve your skydiving skill set, and get you closer to that ultimate goal - skydiving on your own!

Upon completion of your AFF course, you will be able to jump solo, and continue on to 25 jumps to gain your internationally recognised 'A' licence. This will allow you to jump at any 'A' licenced dropzone in New Zealand and indeed the world.

FIRST UP - GROUND SCHOOL:

The course begins with a day on the ground, learning all you need to know to get you up in the sky the following day including:

- * How to fly and safely land a parachute.
- * How to recognise & react to malfunctions.
- * How to approach and move around aircraft.

Everything to know about the equipment you will be using. How it operates, it's design and features, the checks to do before your skydive, and most importantly how to use it safely!

At the end of the day you will receive a written exam to complete. This helps us to ensure, that you have all the knowledge required to undertake you first skydive. Then it's home time for a good rest because next up....

THE JUMPS

LEVEL 1 - 3

The aim of these first skydives is to teach you the basic skills of skydiving, focusing primarily on a stable and relaxed body position. You will have two instructors by your side, and you will be shown how to read your altimeter, monitor your altitude, fly stable and deploy your own parachute.

Next we focus on controlling your canopy during flight and in the landing sequence. These first jumps your instructors will guide you through your canopy flight and landing with the aid of a helmet radio.

LEVEL 4 - 6

With only one instructor on these levels, it's all about mastering the 'control of heading' or simply put, direction. You are going to learn how to perform 360 degree turns, and how to fly forward in the sky.

If required you will still have the radio on your helmet to assist in the flying of the parachute, and will continue to learn more on the characteristics of your canopy and how it flies through the air.

LEVEL 7 - 8

Now your confidence level is rising, it's time for a backflip! This will demonstrate to your instructor that you are capable of recovering from an unstable body position. You will also learn how to turn during forward movement and more!

Having shown in your previous jumps that you have a great understanding of how the canopy flies, landing patterns and flaring to land, you will now be doing this without the aid of your instructor on the radio.

WHAT'S NEXT

LEVEL 9

This is where everything you have learnt gets put to the test, your last jump of the AFF course, and indeed your first SOLO skydive.

We climb in the plane to just 4000ft, open the door and you jump from this low altitude! Exiting the plane stable and deploying your canopy within seconds is the aim of this jump. This shows us that you have what it takes to handle yourself in any situation at high or low altitudes.

GET YOUR 'A' LICENCE

To gain your New Zealand parachute organisation 'A' licence, you will need to complete 6 more SOLO skydives, 5 coach jumps, a canopy course, 4 hop and pops and one 'A' licence checkout jump. This jump consists of a dive exit, backflip, 360 degree turns and tracking. You will also know how to pack a parachute and land your canopy within a certain distance from a designated target.

These skydives are generally performed from 12000ft and you use them to refine your skills, improve your awareness levels and learn to relax in your own state of freefall awesomeness!

Completion of the requirements gets you your very own internationally recognised 'A' licence.
